1. The only measures taken to date for the demolition of communications in the case of attack have consisted in the selection of crews and the designation of the objectives for whose demolition the crews will be responsible. These crews are made up of reliable Communist Party members in the Army, and only young officers and non-commissioned officers are being considered.
2. No other preparatory measures with regard to the assigned objectives have been undertaken, and no action has been taken in regard to the actual methods to be followed in the demolition of important communications.
